INTERIM REPORT

for the six months ended 30 June 2014

Stilo specialises in helping organisations to automate the conversion of their content into different XML standards. Operating from offices in the UK and Canada, we support commercial publishers, technology companies and government agencies around the world.

New customers for the Migrate cloud XML content conversion service include Kaplan Professional Education, ADP, Pitney Bowes, CD-Adapco, Deltek, Unicef and Cray Inc.

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

Sales decreased slightly during the period, primarily due to a reduction in OmniMark software license sales, which are expected to be offset by increased Migrate sales in the second half of 2014.

Significant progress has been made with the development of AuthorBridge, a new, ground-breaking web-based authoring solution for large enterprises, with customer pilot projects scheduled for later this year and general release planned for early 2015.

With a continuing healthy cash position and encouraging business outlook, I am pleased to announce the payment by Stilo of an interim dividend of 0.03 pence per share.

David Ashman

Chairman

BUSINESS REVIEW

Large organisations need to process ever increasing amounts of digital content and publish information to multiple media channels including print, web, CD-ROM, smartphones, ebook readers and mobile devices.

These organisations often need to author and publish content in multiple languages, and re-use that content in many different ways, across different publications and document types. Innovative web applications dynamically assemble and deliver content to users that is tailored to their individual purchasing requirements, reading preferences or personal interests.

The content management systems that support such digital publishing applications typically necessitate that content is stored and processed in a 'neutral' XML (Extensible Markup Language) format prior to publication.

Stilo specialises in helping organisations automate the conversion of their existing content into different XML formats. Our solutions are used by commercial publishers, technology companies and government agencies and include organisations involved in the production and maintenance of technical documentation.

The business opportunity for XML content conversion technology and services is global and growing, and it is Stilo's objective to dominate this market sector

PRODUCTS AND CUSTOMERS

Stilo's core technology is OmniMark, a leading content processing platform used by customers over many years to develop high-performance, content processing solutions that support large scale publishing applications. Users include Boeing, Pratt and Whitney, EADS, Thomson Publishing, and Wolters Kluwer. Sales for the period included orders from the European Parliament, Embraer and the Japan Patent Office.

Over recent years, the Company has made a significant investment in the development of Migrate, the world's first cloud XML content conversion service, based upon OmniMark technology. Through advanced levels of automation, it enables our customers to improve turnaround times, reduce operating costs and take direct control of their conversion processes, providing them with an attractive alternative to traditional in-house or outsourced conversion services.

Migrate customers include IBM, Cisco Systems, Oracle and Micron Technology. New customers in 2014 include Kaplan Professional Education, Pitney Bowes, CD-Adapco, Deltek and ADP.

The recently introduced Migrate Partner Programme has generated additional new business in 2014 with customers including Unicef in Switzerland and Cray Inc. in the USA, and ongoing will serve to generate incremental business opportunities in new geographic territories and market sectors.

We have recently initiated the development of AuthorBridge, a low-cost, web-based XML authoring solution for occasional contributors to enterprise content management systems, who have no prior knowledge of XML or its complexities.

AuthorBridge is a server-based application that integrates with CK Editor, the world's leading open source HTML editor, and utilises OmniMark and Migrate technology to convert from HTML to XML, and back again.

Pilot projects are currently scheduled with customers later in 2014, with the planned general release of AuthorBridge early in 2015.

OPFRATIONS

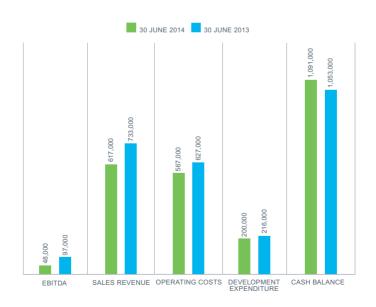

At 30 June 2014, Stilo employed 15 permanent staff, based in the UK and in Canada. Additionally, use is made of contractors for the delivery of professional service engagements. Although we plan to make some additional investments in the recruitment of further development personnel, we do not currently plan to expand the headcount significantly in the near future, but remain focused upon revenue growth predominantly through sales of technology and cloud based services.

FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

The results for the period ended 30 June 2014 have been prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles of International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union.

EBITDA for the first six months of the year was £48,000 (2013: £97,000), and pre-tax profits were £39,000 (2013: £72,000).

Total sales revenue for the period was £617,000 (2013: £733,000). The slight decrease in revenue was due primarily to a reduction in OmniMark software licence sales, which is expected to be offset by increased Migrate sales in the second half of 2014. Revenue generated from software maintenance contracts held broadly level at £344,000 (2013: £371,000). In addition, adverse foreign currency effects meant that total revenue was depressed by approximately £43,000 compared to the same period in 2013.

The Board continues to maintain careful control over operating costs, which in the period were £567,000, net of capitalised development costs (2013: £627,000). Total development expenditure, including capitalised costs, in the period was £200,000 (2013: £216,000).

Staff costs and overheads, which were directly attributable to the development of AuthorBridge in the period, were £71,000 and these costs have been capitalised and recognised as an intangible asset, which is expected to generate revenue in 2015.

The Company continues to further strengthen its balance sheet, and remains entirely un-geared with a cash balance of £1,091,000 as at 30 June 2014 (31 December 2013: £1,085,000, 30 June 2013: £1,035,000).

DIVIDENDS

During the period, the final dividend for the year ended 31 December 2013 was paid at the rate of 0.03 pence per share.

The Board is pleased to declare the payment of an Interim dividend for the year ended 31 December 2014 to shareholders at the rate of 0.03 pence per share (2013: 0.02 pence per share), which will be paid on 15 October 2014 to those shareholders on the register as at 26 September 2014.

The Board's policy is to maintain payment of a steady and progressive dividend, well covered and paid subject to maintaining sufficient funds within the business, with regard to prudent forecasts of future capital requirements, without the need for debt funding.

The global market for dynamically publishing digital content to desktop computers, laptops, tablets and mobile devices is rapidly expanding.

Trading in 2014 continues in line with management forecasts. We look forward to continuing to build upon our leading position in the DITA XML content conversion market, and to explore further opportunities for automated XML content processing solutions.
